

Cynthia G. Biondi

I am thrilled to be living in my dream house. Completed in 2002, our classic brick Georgian-style home is the product of years of personal vision and research, all brought to fruition by Wadia Associates.

As a large family of six, we had very specific ideas about how we would use our living space in a new home, as well as definite requirements for both the practical and the pleasurable side of the design. From our very first meeting with him, Dinyar Wadia paid full, expert attention to our long list of needs, and then efficiently transformed them into a beautiful design plan. The detailed drawings that followed captured every element and nuance of authentic Georgian architecture. Dinyar has an uncanny ability to “get it right” when it comes to the scale of the rooms as well as the intricate details within each room. His extensive knowledge and experience about “what works, and what doesn’t” saved us countless hours and moved along the decision-making process throughout the project. He designed for us a house that is grand in scale, but still exudes a wonderful sense of warmth and intimacy that makes it a home. Many of our friends remark that our house has the classic look of estates built centuries ago, yet affords us all the modern conveniences, comforts, and advanced technology of today’s world.

Choosing Wadia Associates to be our design-build team brought tremendous additional value and convenience to our project. The translation of the vision from paper plans to literal “bricks and mortar” was seamless under Dinyar’s excellent direction. The quality of construction was held to his very high standard; the project timing and budget were kept under his rigorous control. We moved into our brand new house 15 months after breaking ground. In the five years that we have lived here, Dinyar has been invaluable in helping us to maintain our home in mint condition well after its completion.

Our experience designing-and-building with Dinyar Wadia was an unparalleled pleasure. We felt that his heart and soul were poured into this project, as were ours, resulting in our complete satisfaction and pride in our dream home. He is a master of his craft.

Sincerely,

Cindy Biondi