To Whom It May Concern:

We started working with Dinyar Wadia almost five years ago on the renovation of our house in Greenwich. At that time, we thought that we knew a great deal about design and construction as we had renovated several homes prior to moving to Greenwich. It is only now, after having lived in our house for two years, that we have come to understand the value of the services that Dinyar Wadia provides. Dinyar contributes to the design process not just his keen insight into the logical use of space, but the critical decisions about finishes that set our house apart from others.

Designing and drawing in detail the custom moldings, as well as every window and door, all are standard operating procedure with Dinyar Wadia. Dinyar's ideas distinguish each of our rooms in ways that we could not have understood until we lived in them.

Best of all, Dinyar is truly a delight to work with. If we elected to reject one of his ideas which in our estimate seemed too costly (many of which were magnificent), Dinyar would relate a charming story about another client who initially refused, reversed himself too late and ended up paying double. There were often times when Dinyar had to convince us to believe him. In the end we would grudgingly go along and years later would concede to one another that Dinyar was correct. Our house is wonderful because of his devotion to beauty and quality.

Very truly yours,
