

Charles R. Perrin

Former Chairman & CEO
Duracell International Inc. &
Avon Products Inc.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

It is with great pleasure that we recommend Wadia Associates who designed our Edwardian home. From the first time we met Dinyar Wadia through the process of designing and constructing our home, he was most professional, knowledgeable and accommodating. His personal ethics and client service were impeccable. He was fully involved from the initial design work to the completion of construction and beyond. His staff is of the highest quality.

Our home was a dream made into a reality by Wadia Associates. Dinyar took the time to understand our design requirements and guided us through a process that resulted in a home that we are completely satisfied with. All the rooms have great views and the house was carefully oriented so that it is filled with light and sunshine. The house is perfectly wedded to the landscape of our property and the beautifully designed "garden rooms" - which were part of Wadia Associates original drawings - create an authentic feeling of a rambling English country home.

Dinyar's energy and enthusiasm for attending to the design details created an old world feeling that always causes our visitors to marvel at the authentic nature of the house. All design suggestions were sound and cost effective and reflected Dinyar's years of experience in the field. Having never built a house before, we found out that it was very helpful to have Dinyar assist us to make important decisions correctly, the first time around. We could not imagine anyone more attentive to the process than Dinyar, who responded to all our requests with a smile and made the process enjoyable.

He retained the structural, mechanical, electrical and sanitary engineers and paid them from his design fees, thereby protecting our interests. We understand that this is not a typical way of doing things. Most importantly, we feel that ours is truly an original home, from the beautiful design of our stair hall and the carved details at the arches to the addition of modern electronics in a subtle and unobtrusive manner, we have never seen another home like ours!

It is reassuring to know that Dinyar's interest in our home did not end when we moved in. He continues to call and visit us, at periodic intervals, to make sure we are comfortable in our wonderful home. We are pleased with our relationship with, by now, an old friend.

Best Regards,

Sheik O Charles Perrin