WADIA ASSOCIATES

It's often said; "that without passion, one cannot excel in any field, but find a job you love and you will never work a day in your life." This quote might best describe the passion that Dinyar Wadia, Principal of Wadia Associates in New Canaan, Connecticut feels for the profession he has pursued since graduating with a Masters Degree in Architecture from Columbia University in 1969. Founding his firm in 1975, he has created high-end residential homes throughout Fairfield and Westchester Counties, and has added homes to his portfolio of exquisite properties to include projects in Palm Beach and Sarasota, Florida. He believes that "things of beauty are a joy forever and that inspiration comes from any and all places". "There's an inexplicable connection to the past as well as to the present", he says, and "architecture is all about proportion and detail – correct detail, which has its roots in classical architecture".
